6. Annexure 2: Registration timelines

6.A Timelines indicated in this document reflect the time that the application is at BOMRA and the applicant's time to respond to outstanding queries. Applicants will be given a maximum of 3 months to respond to queries.

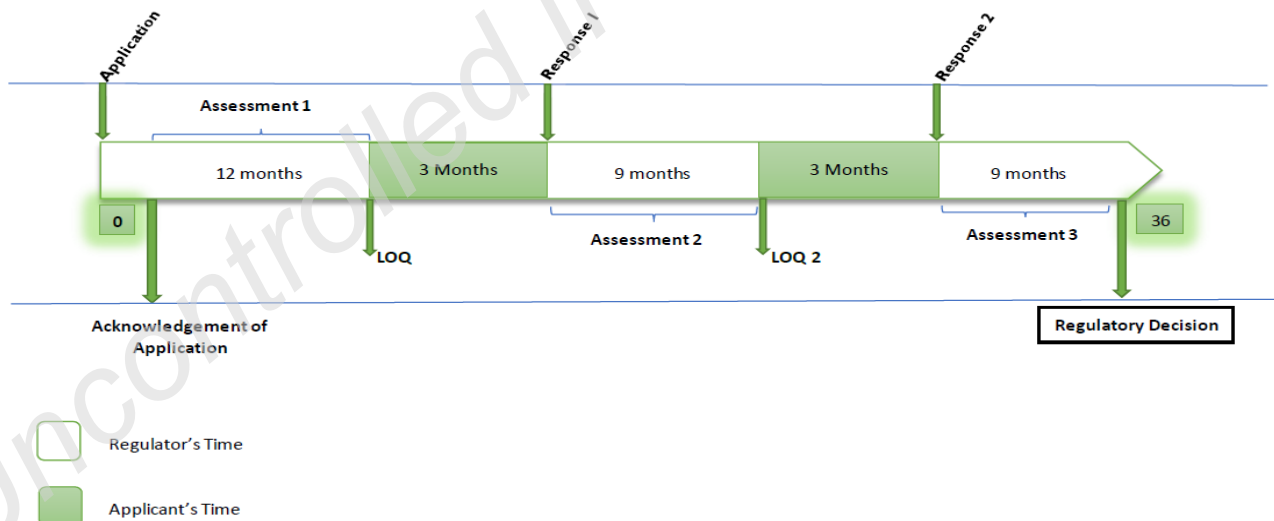

6.A.1 In cases where deadlines are not met in response to queries sent it will result in the application being rejected/closed.

6.A.2 Once all cycles to respond have been exhausted, any application with outstanding issues will be rejected.

6.A.3 In cases of technical deficiencies that the applicant has not addressed, applications will also be rejected.

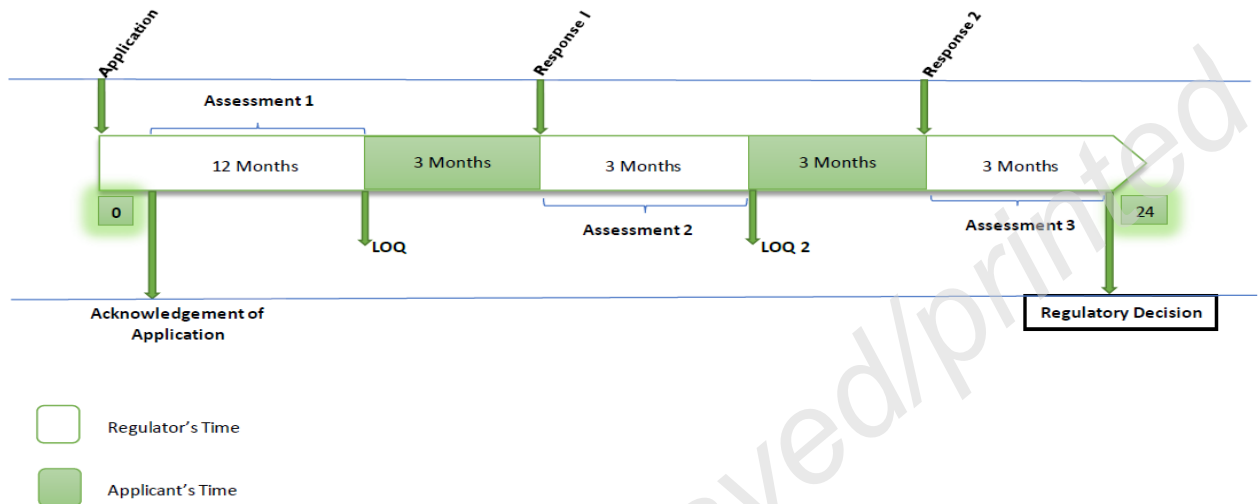

If the applicant still wishes to pursue a rejected application, a new application with applicable fee should be submitted. A new reference number will be issued and any decision on the new application will be independent of the previous application. However, should the applicant wish to expedite review of the new application, expedited fee is applicable.
